Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 09 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Some light rain in the west but drier further east.

Today:
A dry start in the east but dull and damp in the west through the morning with some light rain and showers. A few showers are possible in the afternoon but eastern areas staying largely dry. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
A mostly dry but cloudy start to the night. Rain, often heavy, arriving in the west and slowly moving eastwards through the night, reaching eastern areas by dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Saturday:
Rain continues clearing to the east by the afternoon. Staying rather cloudy for most with a few showers breaking out and some bright spells later. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cloudy with showery rain on Sunday. Scattered showers on Monday, potentially heavy with a risk of thunder and hail. Drier on Tuesday with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.